US Oil Strike May End Monday Next

Washington, May 16. The resumption of work by Monday at several resuit by the end of the week, was today's forecast in the 17-day-old strike of 90,000 workers of the American oil industry. The Government's Mediation and Conciliation Service re-ported that more wage settlements had been reached between individual oil companies and the unions involved. The unions, which have already signed individual wage contracts, have accepted the recommendation of the Wage Stabilisation Board (a body comprising union, industry and public members) of a 15 cents an hour increase, with further increases of between six and 12 cents for night shifts. It was expected that companies and unions still negotiating would follow this pattern.-Reuter.

141S is Jimmy Durante ... HE EATS cornlakes five times a lay. It is his staple diet for energy." HE GAVE UP a glass of Scotch at night because it did not blend well with his evening meal of cereal.

HE SMOKES 15 clgars day and keeps a pair of seis-sors in his packet to cut the fraying cigar end from time to time to ensure a "clean smoke."

HE SINGS "Jimmy the Well-Dressed Man," but alas...."I wear a new rult and the next day it is old," he says. .. HE HAS a voice that rusty, and, the gag goes, on gramophone records sounds just as good with used needles. Travelling with him to London when I met him was the DURANTE DOZEN: the people who will also appear in his London Palladium stage act; as well as their relatives and friends, and MARJORIE LITTLE, whom he calls in off moments "my financeur."

Miss Little, tall; attractive, red-halred, has known Jimmy Duranto (the final "c" is sounded) for ten of her 82 years. "For eight years we've been going together." she said.
A RING? YES

"Three years ago, on Christmas Day, he brought me ring. 'Does this mean we're engaged?' I asked. "But Jimmy hasn't asked me to marry him yet. Maybe later. I hope

"Jimmy doesn't have much time for soft speeches. When I told him in the ship the moon was shining and he should come up on deck, all he said was: 'And freeze?' "Still, it's wonderful just to he around with Jimmy." There are always people "just around" with 59-year-old Jimmy Durante. He hates to be lonely. "My favourite occupation is making friends and influencing money," he says. 18-HOUR DAY

The Durante Dozen is not unique in show business. Abbott and Costello had a party of 17 with them. The Band of Hope (Bob) was 15-strong. Durante plunges into his day with the vigour of a cross-Channel swimmer. He snatches a couple of hours' sleep at lunch-time before tackling more cereal and apple ple. He is the only man I know who cats the crust and leaves the The rest of the time-he was organising his troupe, tackling the Customs, asking about JIMMY EDWARDS ("I hear he la great").

He works 18 hours a day, gets to bed around four or five in the morning, which explains why he is bored in Hollywood -"A to-bed-at-ten town."

Durante prefers to get up at noon. Then a massage in bed; eyeling exercises to keep his legs in trim ("For a comedian tegs are as important as gags. I have a cycling machine at the theatre"), then breakfast. 200 BONGS

For 30 years he had two "rawr" eggs, then a doctor told him to give them up. So he is on prune juice, ten, and buns now. Plus, of course,

Then work; rehearsals, script conferences, and time out to compose the odd new song. He has written most of his 200 special songs, and set up a music-publishing business to sell them.

"But not even a cockwach comes into the offices. The boys use the place to study racing form. I think we did sell one copy of 'The Lost Chord' some months ago."

The simple explanation of why the Durante song business does not flourish is that only Durante imitators buy the songs, for their own work. "When I sing a song I roo-in it for anybody else. It is the kiss

What is the appeal of Jim-my Duranto which has kept him 40 years in show business, most of the time at the top? He says: "Warmth. It isn't the tricks of speech or anything like that, but because I really work to get the audience with mo.

You can have a success overnight and be admired. But to get audience warmth-and love-you have to be in the business for years and years. Durante's attacks on words as they are spelled in the dictionary come naturally. HIS WOIDS Picturesquely, Jimmy Durante phranes it: phonoying them wolds. I never got to the top form in school, and I don't spell so good

PRACTICAL HOMECRAFI

Good For Any Occasion (Salads with a difference)

By ALICE DENHOFF

RECIPE round-up to- quart sliced potatoes and day, leading off with a special chicken salad, good any place, any time, at home, for a picnic, for lunch, dinner or supper.

For 6-8 portions, comchicken that has been diced, one c. shredded cabbage one c. thredded lettuce hearts, 19 c, cooked green beans cut in pieces, 14 diced pimiento, 34 c. thinly-sliced sweet pickles, and 2 hard-cooked eggs, diced, in bowl that has been rubbed with gartic. Chill. Combine 34 c. mayonnaise, tsp. grated onion, tsp. worcestershire sauce, tap, minced paraley and 3 finely-crushed peppercorns. Add to chicken mixture just before serving, tossing lightly with a fork. So different from the usual dull chicken and celery mixture!

Right here is where we are going to get over the annual Creme Vichysoisse controversy dressing. for this summer, any way. So here is our favourite, version of d' soup that likes to think it'is' snooty but that is really just a super leek and potato soup. But it is delicious especially when prepared according to this

Cook 34 c. sliced onlons and 114 c. sliced lecks In 3 tbsp. butter that has melted. Cook until soft but not brown. Then add one one pint water, cooking for 20-30 mln. Heat 2 tins con-densed chicken soup; add to rotatoes and leeks, continue cooking for about 10 minutes. Force mixture through a fine sleve. Season with 2½ isp. salt and ½ isp. pepper. Heat one pint each milk and cream; and to puree. If the mixture is not real smooth, put through a fine sleve again.
Makes about 2 quarts soup.
Serve chilled. Ten minutes before serving, mix chopped mint leaves with the chilled soup for that extra touch.

Teddy Answers Some Questions Where'd You Get That Hat?

-But The One About Simon's Blanket Was Too Hard!-

BY MAX TRELL

SIMPLE Simon, who wasn't very smart, came out of the Mother Goose Book to talk to Teddy the Stuffed Bear, who wasn't very smart either. He sat himself down next to Teddy on the edge of the bookshelf.

"Teddy," said Simon, "there are some important questions I'd like to ask you." "If you don't mind my answering them wrong, Simon," said Teddy, "I'll be glad to answer them. But if I have to answer them right, I think I'd better just take a nap. In fact, I think I'd better take a nap anyway."

Simon quickly kept Teddy from stretching out and going to sleep. "I don't care how you unswer them," he said earnestly and so do ducks and geese and to Teddy. "I can't answer them robins." at all. It's much better to have a wrong answer than no answer, "You certainly are a clover so please enswer them any way bear, Teddy! Maybe you' ARE Simon now asked the first question that was puzzling him. "Which is heavier-a pound of feathers or a pound of iron?" "H'mm," said Teddy thoughtfully, "now let's see. A pound of feathers weighs a pound. That's one pound. A pound of iron weighs a pound. That's one pound, too. They both weigh a pound. So I guess-but I'm not sure and I really think I'm the same. Sounds silly, doesn't Simon agreed that it sounded silly. "Iron is heavier than a feather. If you threw some Iron in the air it would come right down and hit you on the head. If you threw a feather in the air, it would float away." * "That's what bothers me," said

.If East has the queen of clubs he will play it-no matter what combination of eards he may hold. And of course, if East does play the queen of clubs, the rest is easy. If East plays a low club, South must assume that West has the queen. This will be true very nearly 100 percent of the time. If East plays a low club from the queen, he must be a great genius or very careless.

So if East plays a low club, South also plays low. The eight may be high enough to force out West's queen. If West is able to win with the ten of clubs, South regains the lend and pushes the jack of clubs through West.

You, South, hold: Spades J-C-2-2, Hearts K-J-5. Diamonds K-8-5-3-2. Club 6. What'do you do?

A-Bid two diamonds. The hand is too good for a raise to two spades, but not good enough for a jump raise to three spaden. Fellow the usual procedure by bidding the diamonds and raising the spades later.

Your bid of two diamonds is not forcing, since you have passed originally, but it North has such a weak evening bid that he drops you at two diamonds you will not miss very much.

Show Indian Batsmen

Cope, 1952 by NEA Bervice, Inc.

Cambridge, May 16. A glorious day at Cambridge was spoiled by the Indians' unimaginative batting. The game ended in a

Everything was in favour of run making, and at the start Umrigar showed that the Cambowling could be punished. But after he fell to grand catch at mid-off, kind of batting paralysis swept over the whole Indian team.

Hazare, the eaptain, made only 20 runs in 95 minutes, Mantri took three hours to score 52 runs, which included only two fours, and Manjrekar occupied 80 minutes for 27 runs. -It was a scrry exhibition on a perfect batting wicket.

Warr, one of four Test players in the Cambridge side, bowled splendidly while the shine was on the ball, and took five wickets for 55 runs

When India declared, Cambridge wanted 231 in 110 minutes, including the extra

It was a difficult task, but Sheppard, to his credit, decided to make the attempt and took the lead in their second round Stevenson, a natural hitter, with European Zone Davis Cup tie him to open the innings, Sieven- with Brazil here today. son was quickly bowled while recking runs, and then Sheppard and May made a determined effort to get on-terms-with-theclock. Both produced magnificent strokes and never hesitated to steal singles. But runs did not bowling and fielding.

By Galbraith French Colts Favourites Derby

London, May 16. Tulyar, who won the Derby Trial Stakes at Lingfield Park today, was the only English colt among the first five quoted at tonight's Victoria Club callover for the Epsom Derby.

He was quoted at 100 to eight behind the joint favourites, Silnet and Thunderhead, at 15 to two and Monsieur Boussac's Argur at 10 to one.

Bookmakers believe that Tulyar's price will shorten as he is owned by the Aga Khan who always has a big public following in the Derby. American-bred Vagabond VII. second in today's race, was not quoted but H. V. C., who was third, entered the betting at 100

Unwanted Men's Future

Mexborough, Yorks, May 16. Italians living in miners' hostels in Mexborough today discussed their future in Britain with representatives of the National Coal Board, the Ministry of Labour and the Italian Government.

The men were brought Britain to work, in mines, but as many miners' lodges were not willing to accept foreign labour, plt places for them are now very restricted.

Today the Italians were told the position and possibilities of other employment. Those who Von Cramm wish to relumn home will be rules:-

Ugly Scene At New Cross

London, May 16. Police were called to the New Cross speedway track last night when an angry crowd of spectators stormed the manager's office nifer Wembley had snatched a win by 42 points to 40 over New Cross in a National League match.

The crowd insisted that the steward should not have allowed the last heat to continue after the New Cross riders, Bert Rogers and Rounie Gens, had fallen in a crash.

While officials tried to drag the riders from the track, Wembley riders Trevoe Redmond and Bill Kitchen raced past them to win the heat five points to nil and the match.—Reuter.

Helicopter Shortage

London, May 16. The Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Defence, Mr E. N. C. Birch, told the House of Commons that no helicopters were being used by British forces in the Middle East and none was available at present without diverting them from more urgent tasks.-Reuter.

Why we say A Salvo of guns.

The word "salvo" is used today solely to describe a salute of artillery in honour or welcome but originally it meant no more than "How d'you do!" for it is the Latin word salve, meaning "Hail!"
